Akerman is a sponsor of the 2021 Annual Conference and Marketplace hosted by the National Association of Professionals Employer Organizations (NAPEO). Brian Nugent will speak several times at the conference, including as a presenter for "PEO University," which is a comprehensive session covering all parts of the professional employer organizations (PEO) business and the significant legal issues that must be considered as a PEO. In addition, Brian will speak on two panels titled, "Inquiring Minds Want to Know – How to Prepare for Being Sold," and "The New World of Work." During the panel discussions, Brian will respectively cover legal diligence and ensuring a company's operations are in good order in advance of an M&A transaction; and the current status of the American workforce and the challenges, both operationally and legally it proposes to employers, and PEOs in particular.

The NAPEO Annual Conference and Marketplace is an event for PEOs across the country and is dedicated to the legal, regulatory, and legislative issues that affect PEOs.
