Speaking Engagements

Nora Martins and Joshua Rinesmith to Speak on NYC Zoning and Land Use

April 11, 2019
2:30 PM ET

Webcast

Nora Martins and Joshua Rinesmith, will present a webcast program titled "Basic NYC Zoning and Land Use for Real Estate Lawyers." This program will provide an overview of how to navigate land use and zoning in New York City, with a focus on practical issues that real estate lawyers representing developers and property owners should understand. The course will also provide an introduction to "air" rights, including how to determine if there are available air rights for acquisition, confirming whether a potential air rights transaction complies with the Zoning Resolution, and the documents necessary to memorialize such a transaction.
