Felicia Nowels Quoted in Florida Trend on Trade Outlook Under President Trump

May 1, 2017

Felicia Nowels spoke with Florida Trend for an article titled, “The Trump Effect,” which examined the implications the Trump presidency may have on U.S. and Florida trade. Amid talks across the administration to renegotiate trade agreements with various countries, Nowels addressed opportunities and challenges to consider in those areas.

Florida Trend wrote, “[Nowels] says the Trump administration could prove helpful to Florida businesses by more aggressively enforcing anti-dumping policies.”
