Akerman Appoints Matt Schroeder Dallas Office Managing Partner

January 5, 2023

Top 100 U.S. law firm Akerman LLP has appointed litigation partner Matt Schroeder as Dallas office managing partner, effective immediately.

As office managing partner, Schroeder will continue serving clients while strengthening Akerman's relationships with civic and business leaders in the Dallas market and guiding the firm's strategic direction locally. He will also facilitate important local and regional connections, and advance the firm's goals in this important market.

"Matt is an outstanding lawyer viewed both by his clients and colleagues as a trusted advisor and natural leader. He has deep ties to the Dallas community, and is strongly committed to our firm and our culture," said Akerman Chairman and CEO Scott Meyers. "We welcome him to our management team and look forward to his many contributions."

Schroeder represents major insurance companies in litigation with significant exposure claims that pose extreme risk of loss to the company. He advises insurance companies on policy coverage issues and disputes, as well as environmental regulatory compliance and preventive measures to mitigate future risks.
