

Press Release

Hurricane Irma

September 11, 2017

Our thoughts are with all those impacted by Hurricane Irma. We are relieved that our lawyers and staff across Florida are safe. As always, their well-being and that of our clients are our top priorities.

Today, and in the days ahead, we begin our relief efforts. The firm will provide pro bono and volunteer services as part of our commitment to help communities affected by the hurricanes in both Florida and Texas. We also are focused on a firm-wide relief effort to assist our people who have been affected by the flooding.

In addition to these humanitarian efforts, we continue to focus on business continuity to ensure that all client needs are addressed in a timely manner. Currently, our Florida offices are closed, but our systems are online and we remain fully operational.
