Zain Abidi focuses his practice on immigration and compliance matters. He advises clients on immigrant and nonimmigrant visas, and partners with individuals and investors to plan immigration pathways to the United States. He also has experience counseling clients on I-9 and related compliance issues. Zain has provided comprehensive immigration services to large and small companies operating in the financial services, technology, manufacturing, healthcare, and pharmaceuticals industry, amongst others.

Zain regularly represents affirmative asylum seekers in pro bono matters, including multiple individuals seeking asylum after the fall of the coalition-supported Afghan government in August 2021.

Notable Work

Secondment: Seconded to a global technology company with more than 300,000 employees. During this time, he rewrote the company's global visitor visa policy, crafted strategy to respond to state salary transparency laws, and responded to complex immigration issues.

Immigration: Managed high-volume nonimmigrant visa and immigrant visa caseload for companies operating in the financial services, retail, technology, and pharmaceutical industries, including some of the nation's largest hedge funds, private equity firms, and IT consulting firms.

Immigration: Successfully planned and executed immigration market entry strategy for Indian firms looking to open up shop in the United States.

Logistics: Successfully conducted a revamp of internal I-9 policy for a logistics company.
