

People

Amanda P. Weinick

Associate, Tax

Fort Lauderdale
T: +1 202 824 1764

Washington, D.C.
T: +1 202 393 6222

amanda.weinick@akerman.com
vCard

Amanda Weinick is an associate in the Tax Practice Group. Amanda advises clients, including private equity firms, on tax-efficient structures for mergers and acquisitions, as well as on state and local tax issues, including controversy and litigation matters. She assists clients with due diligence and other activities related to the acquisition of government contracting concerns across a range of industries, including defense, construction, engineering, and healthcare.

Amanda also advises government contractors on small-business size eligibility for various programs offered by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA). She has additional experience in the energy and infrastructure sector, and has counseled clients on real estate and construction matters related to the development of data centers and other critical infrastructure.

Related Professional Experience

- United States Court of Federal Claims, Judicial Intern, 2022-2023

Published Work and Lectures

- Law360, Co-Author, “How New SBA Rule May Affect Small Government Contractors,” February 14, 2025
- American Bar Association, Author, “Punished for Outgrowing Small Business Status: How the SBA Can Help Mid-sized Firms Survive in the Federal Procurement System,” October 3, 2023

Areas of Experience

Tax
Corporate Tax
State and Local Tax Consulting and Controversy
Government Contracts
Real Estate
Data Centers and Digital Infrastructure
Energy and Infrastructure

Education

J.D., George Washington University Law School,
Government Procurement, 2023, with honors
B.A., University of Maryland, 2020, magna cum laude

Admissions

Bars

Florida
District of Columbia

Related Content

Akerman Represents Artmark in Management Buyout by KLH Capital
October 01, 2025

How SBA's New Rule Will Affect a Small Government Contractor's Projected Set-Aside Work Following "Disqualifying" M&A Activity
February 14, 2025

Brenda Radmacher to Co-Chair ABA Forum on Construction Law Annual Meeting
April 11, 2024