Elan Hersh to Speak on Meeting the Data Demands of Litigation

January 30, 2024
3:30 PM – 4:30 PM ET

New York Hilton Midtown
1335 6th Avenue
New York, NY

Elan Hersh will speak on a panel titled “Meeting the Data Demands of Litigation,” at Legalweek 2024 presented by ALM/Law.com. The panel will discuss how practitioners are leveraging new processes and technology in new ways to deliver success for their clients throughout the litigation process.

Discussion topics include:

- How to balance the needs of the case while reducing the security risks of over-collection.
- Creative methods to validate targeted collections and reduce downstream processing time and expense.
- How to maximize the value of all technologies available to you and using tech to support each stage of the litigation lifecycle.
