Akerman Expands New York Bench With Real Estate, Corporate Laterals

February 5, 2024

Ricardo Bernard and Joseph Brasile join the firm's largest office.

Akerman proudly welcomes Ricardo Bernard and Joseph Brasile to our New York office. Bernard is a partner in the firm's corporate practice and Brasile joins as a partner in the real estate practice.

Bernard focuses his practice on private equity, venture capital, M&A and general corporate matters. He regularly advises investment firms and their portfolio companies in connection with domestic and cross-border mergers, acquisitions, buyouts, joint ventures, restructurings and other investments across multiple industries, including technology, healthcare, industrials, consumer goods and infrastructure.

Prior to joining Akerman, Bernard helped co-found the Washington, D.C., office of an international law firm focused on emerging market transactions.

Brasile focuses his practice on complex commercial real estate transactions for owners, developers, institutional and private lenders, borrowers, landlords and tenants. He has broad real estate financing experience, including advising clients on permanent loans, acquisition loans, construction loans and mezzanine loans. His work with distressed assets includes loan workouts,
