Elan Hersh to Speak on the Use of Generative AI in e-Discovery

February 22, 2024
2:20 PM – 3:20 PM ET

701 Brickell Avenue
Suite 3300
Miami, FL

Elan Hersh will speak on a panel titled “Negotiating ESI Protocols for the Use of Generative AI in e-Discovery,” at The Masters Conference. The panel will debate and discuss how generative AI (in the form of aiR for Review) can be used for first level review in a litigation matter, and what provisions should cover it in an ESI protocol.

The Masters Conference is a highly regarded boutique legal conference focused on addressing various challenges within the legal space. They are held at prominent national firms in various cities throughout the United States, along with Toronto and London, with the goal of facilitating proactive collaboration among industry experts, lawyers, litigation support, vendors, and other attendees.
