Jim McNeil serves as chair of Akerman's Residential Development Practice, a highly experienced team representing national builders and developers of master planned and mixed-use residential communities throughout the real estate development process.

Jim represents developers, homebuilders, and private equity funds throughout Florida in all phases of the acquisition, entitlement, development, and sale of property, including build-to-rent communities, golf course redevelopment, and mall acquisition/redevelopment. Jim is known for his ability to provide pragmatic, strategic, and forward-thinking planning advice. He handles both the transactional aspects of the deal as well as the due diligence and procurement of land use approvals and entitlements. In procuring development approvals for his clients, Jim negotiates complex development agreements and handles concurrency, utility, and school capacity/mitigation agreements.

Active in the community, Jim is a member of the Greater Orlando Builders Association and previously served on the Board of Directors and as the Associate Vice President.

Notable Work

Florida Land Deal: Represented developer GT USA in the purchase of 2,300 acres of land for $165 million in Lake County, Florida, that could bring close to 3,000 homes to the Wellness Way corridor. This land deal could be the highest valued land purchase in Lake County history and one of the largest acquisitions in Florida for 2024. The deal received significant media coverage, including: Law360, CoStar, GrowthSpotter, and Orlando Business Journal.

Florida Land Deal: Represented developer GT USA in the sale of 518 acres, in the Wellness Way corridor, to Pulte Home Company for $90 million that could bring close to 1,500 homes to the Wellness Way corridor. The deal received significant media coverage, including from: Orlando Sentinel, Orlando Business Journal, and GrowthSpotter.
