A first chair litigator and trusted counselor to business executives, owners, entrepreneurs, and investors, Megan Costa DeLeon has achieved landmark victories, set precedent, and impacted the business landscape for her clients, including global Fortune 500 companies, private equity funds and their portfolio companies, publicly traded and family and privately owned businesses. Because of her reputation as a tenacious litigator, Megan's clients value her strategic perspective informed by her decades of practice and master's level business education. A leader within Akerman and in the profession, Megan serves on Akerman's Board of Directors, where she provides guidance on firm management and initiatives. She also served as one of only three U.S.-based members of the international Board of Directors of Lex Mundi, a leading global services platform with member firms in more than 100 countries.

From bet-the-company disputes and contentious litigation amongst closely held family businesses to novel issues of law, Megan is sought out for her strategic-minded approach, deft touch, and ability to build consensus with stakeholders. With a diverse practice encompassing contractual disputes, complex commercial matters, construction disputes, and derivative actions, she has served as lead counsel in dozens of trials and arbitrations, with a track record of achieving optimum outcomes, including precedent-setting victories, such as leading the trial team that litigated the first contested and reported judicial termination of a condominium in the State of Florida.

With a certificate in family business governance from Northwestern University, Megan counsels and represents family enterprises on issues and opportunities that are specific to private and closely held businesses, such as governance, succession planning, dispute resolution, and the acquisition and disposition of business assets. Moreover, Megan has amassed focused training on international legal business issues through her immersive business management training at the University of Cambridge, Judge Business School, where Megan was one of 40 lawyers from over 29 different countries selected to participate. This unique training enables

Notable Work

Prededent-Setting Ruling in Florida Condominium Litigation:

Litigated first contested and reported judicial termination of a condominium in the State of Florida. Given the novelty of issues litigated through this proceeding, Megan consults on high stakes condominium terminations throughout the State. Unicorp Colony Units, LLC v. Colony Beach & Tennis Club Ass'n, Inc., 2019 WL 4419074 (Fla. 12th Cir. Ct. Sarasota Sept. 6, 2019).

Appellate Litigation: Secured reversal of trial court order denying client's motion to dismiss on personal jurisdiction grounds in a $40 million products liability claim by successfully arguing the application and interpretation of the jurisdictional requirements of Florida's long-arm statute. ProAmpac Holdings, Inc. v. RCBA Nutraceuticals, LLC, No. 5D21-2019 (Fla. Dist. Ct. App. Sep. 2, 2022).

Appellate Litigation: Secured reversal of trial court order on due process grounds. Winthrop v. Castellano, Case No. 5D12-4759 (Fla. 5th DCA, April 17, 2013).

Appellate Litigation: Secured precedent-setting ruling outlining attorney's ethical obligations upon receipt of confidential information and affirming disqualification of an opposing law firm which obtained the client's confidential, attorney-client communications from the opposing party. Castellano v. Winthrop, 2010 WL 322177 (Fla. 5th DCA).

Commercial Litigation: Successfully represented industrial packaging and products supplier, in breach of contract and business torts action, by arguing the interpretation of the jurisdictional requirements of Florida's long-arm statute when at the time there were not many published court opinions on the issue.

Commercial Litigation: Obtained dismissal, with prejudice, on initial Motion to Dismiss, on behalf of a global flexible packaging company in a $40 million commercial product liability case in the Eastern District of Wisconsin. RCBA Nutraceuticals LLC v. Proampac Holdings Inc., No. 23-CV-305 (E.D. Wis. Jun. 29, 2023).

Commercial Litigation: Represented a Fortune 500 company in shareholder derivative class action. Representation involved coordination and roll-out of sensitive and extensive e-discovery as part of an accelerated proceeding.

Commercial Litigation: Represented a limited liability company and manager member in multimillion dollar dispute involving claims of misappropriation, breach of fiduciary duty, judicial dissolution and other business torts through trial and subsequent appeals.

Commercial Litigation: Represented a large consortium of international clients to protect, maintain, and preserve millions of dollars in investment assets in the United States.

Multi-District Construction Litigation: Represent national homebuilders in high-volume, multijurisdictional disputes involving construction defect claims brought by purchasers. Representation required coordination of defense among multiple parties (including sub-contractors) in arbitrations and civil litigation brought throughout the State of Florida. Achieved a successful resolution with minimal exposure for the clients.

Construction Litigation: Represented a developer, through trial and subsequent appeals, in defense of claims against purchasers seeking to rescind their purchase contracts. Sullivan v. Fl Land Partners, LLC, Case No. 5d12-2839 (Fla. 5th DCA 2013).
