Beth Zafonte Featured in the New York Real Estate Journal for Career Achievements

May 29, 2013

Beth Zafonte was profiled in the New York Real Estate Journal in the article titled, “Zafonte of Akerman Senterfitt Discusses Her Career.” The article, which highlighted her successful work in the real estate market, also offered insight from Zafonte on how to best capitalize in the industry, specifically on creating a cohesive synergy that will establish the most productivity.

“[The best advice I have ever received was] to have the confidence in myself that others have in me and to work to instill confidence in others as well,” said Zafonte. “This was great advice because of the positive and productive team energy this can create.”
