

In The News

Noam Fischman Discusses the Healthcare Industry's Biggest Litigation Issues for 2025

January 13, 2025

In this recent article, Akerman's Healthcare Litigation Co-Team Leader Noam Fischman shares his thoughts with Law360 on major litigation in the healthcare industry as 2025 gets underway. Fischman discusses the growing tension between state and federal rights playing out in healthcare cases, as well as Constitutional challenges to the False Claims Act playing out in the Eleventh Circuit.

"I think that what we're going to see develop in 2025 is an increased library of likely disagreeing decisions on the appellate level on these issues, on what law dominates — you know, real traditional supremacy clause type issues," Fischman told the publication.

Click here to view this news.

---

Related People

Noam B. Fischman

---

Related Work

Healthcare Litigation

---

Related Offices

Washington, D.C.