Tallahassee, FL

Akerman is proud to sponsor the Florida State University College of Business “2025 Business of Healthcare Summit” - which will serve as a pivotal platform for industry leaders to delve into crucial dialogues addressing the challenges and opportunities shaping healthcare operations across Florida and the United States. This year’s summit will spotlight the transformative disruptions revolutionizing the healthcare landscape: evolving patient preferences and decision-making; innovations in patient care delivery; financial market dynamics and their implications; cutting-edge technological advancements and their integration into healthcare systems. Akerman is, for the second year in a row, represented on the Advisory Board that helped to plan this event.
