Josh DeBottis Named 40 under 40 by Charlotte Business Journal

April 4, 2025

Charlotte Office Managing Partner Josh DeBottis has been named among the Charlotte Business Journal's 40 Under 40 list, which recognizes those who possess a strong record of leadership, performance in their industry, and meaningful community involvement. The recognition comes less than two months after Akerman signed a lease for its new office in Charlotte, North Carolina, while further expanding its national capabilities in energy and infrastructure.

Josh, who also serves as co-chair of the Renewable Energy and Electric Power Practice, focuses his practice on project finance transactions for energy and infrastructure assets, with a particular focus on solar, wind, storage, and other clean energy assets as well as data centers. He represents lenders, investors, and sponsors in a variety of debt and tax equity investment structures, including partnership-flip and sale-leaseback transactions. Josh also represents both buyers and sellers in tax credit transfers under the Inflation Reduction Act.
