

In The News

Daniel Miktus Explains How to Navigate Construction Contracts Amid Market Volatility

June 24, 2025

Explore the complexities of construction contracts in today's market with insights from Akerman Construction Practice Partner Daniel Miktus in a new article published by the National Association of Surety Bond Producers. Daniel's article offers a starting point for understanding how to analyze tariff-related issues in common construction contract forms. This is essential reading for real estate owners and developers seeking to understand how tariff volatility might be addressed in their construction agreements.

Click here to view this news.

Related People

Daniel Miktus

Related Work

Construction

Related Offices

Washington, D.C.