Akerman Forms National Restaurant Industry Group

December 4, 2014

Akerman LLP, a top 100 U.S. law firm serving clients across the Americas, today announced the formation of its Restaurant Industry Group, one of the most comprehensive, multidisciplinary legal teams devoted exclusively to the restaurant industry to be established by a national law firm. The team was formed in response to a need in the marketplace for highly focused and experienced legal counsel in multiple practice areas, who understand the unique intricacies of the restaurant industry.

The Akerman Restaurant Industry Group includes nearly 30 lawyers and regulatory professionals with broad experience representing restaurant industry clients in major U.S. and international markets. Located in New York, Florida, Washington, D.C., and California, the team advises clients in operational, transactional, regulatory, and litigation matters, with particular strengths in mergers and acquisitions; capital markets and other financing transactions; franchising and licensing matters; real estate leasing and development; alcohol beverage regulations; labor and employment matters; intellectual property counseling; and commercial and transactional business disputes.

Akerman is deeply connected to the restaurant industry through long-standing relationships with clients and key industry associations. The firm represents numerous publicly-traded and privately-
