vCard

Andres Brylkin focuses his practice on employment-based immigrant and nonimmigrant visas, investment-based immigration, as well as compliance with U.S. immigration regulations. He advises domestic and multinational companies across a wide range of industries on complex immigration matters. Andres specializes in a broad spectrum of nonimmigrant visa cases and provides clients with insightful, strategic guidance on immigrant visa pathways and labor certification processes across various professions. He is also well-versed in handling family-based immigration and citizenship applications.

In addition, Andres conducts I-9 audits to ensure employers maintain compliance with federal requirements.
