

Press Release

Akerman Continues to be Recognized by Chambers Latin America

August 22, 2025

Akerman continues to be highly ranked by Chambers and Partners among the world's leading law firms for resolving complex disputes and guiding business transactions in Latin America.

Luis A. Perez, chair of Akerman's Latin America and the Caribbean Practice and co-managing partner of the Miami office, was ranked for the 16th consecutive time in the category of International Arbitration for the Latin America region. This category recognizes leading practitioners in arbitration and cross-border disputes on behalf of companies and individuals across Latin America.

Chambers and Partners also recognized International Practice Chair Pedro A. Freyre and Cuba Practice Chair Augusto E. Maxwell, who were once again ranked as leading lawyers in Corporate/Commercial: International Firms - Cuba. The firm as a whole was given the top Band 1 rank in that same category.

Chambers Latin America ranks the top law firms and lawyers across the region, offering insights for those looking to discover the most suitable providers of legal services. The rankings for the guide are based on the in-depth research a dedicated team conducts throughout the year, all designed to help individuals make informed decisions when purchasing legal services.
