

People

Matt Squire

Atlanta

T: +1 404 733 9860

matt.squire@akerman.com

vCard

Matt Squire serves as Akerman's Chief Financial Officer, where he leads strategic financial planning and reporting while driving process improvements to optimize the firm's financial operations. He works closely with firm leadership to enhance systems that support data-driven decision-making, ensuring Akerman continues to deliver exceptional value to its clients. Matt's forward-looking approach and cross-industry perspective make him a key contributor to the firm's sustained growth and operational excellence.

Matt brings more than two decades of senior leadership experience in financial management and analysis, including CFO roles at national law firms and senior finance positions in the technology services and entertainment sectors. He has a strong reputation for advancing operational efficiency, implementing technology-driven solutions, and guiding organizations through strategic growth initiatives. His extensive background encompasses financial planning, reporting, and managing complex financial operations in dynamic environments.

Education

B.S., Michigan State University