Akerman is proud to sponsor the 2026 Committee on Development of the Law Under the NLRA Midwinter Meeting, presented by the American Bar Association's Section of Labor and Employment Law. The program will bring together labor law leaders to explore emerging legal and practical issues under the National Labor Relations Act, including recent NLRB rulings affecting organizing rights, state efforts to expand labor protections, and the impact of constitutional challenges on the Board's structure and independence.

Panels will address cutting-edge developments such as the role of artificial intelligence in collective bargaining, enforcement trends from the NLRB and its Office of General Counsel, and evolving successorship obligations in corporate transactions. The meeting will also feature discussions with Board members, updates on rulemaking, and networking sessions.
