Jason Lichtstein to Present at the Annual Georgia Environmental Conference on Cleanup, Redevelopment, and Data Center Siting

August 21, 2026
10:40 AM - 11:40 AM ET

Jekyll Island Convention Center
75 Beachview Dr. N.
Jekyll Island, GA

Join Atlanta Office Managing Partner Jason Lichtstein as he presents at the Annual Georgia Environmental Conference, the premier environmental education and professional development event in Georgia and the Southeast. Jason will present at a session entitled “The Intersection of Trump Administration Cleanup and Redevelopment Steps with Data Center Siting: Looking into the Future for Georgia,” offering forward-looking insights at the nexus of environmental policy, cleanup and redevelopment strategy, and emerging data center development. The annual conference convenes more than 800 local, state, and federal government officials alongside leaders from business and industry, law, consulting, engineering, development, energy, academia, public health, and environmental technology, making it a cornerstone forum for professionals shaping Georgia and the region’s environmental landscape.
