Akerman Clients Honored as Top In-House Counsel by First Chair

August 10, 2015

In a united effort to recognize the most esteemed members of the legal profession, Akerman joined a collection of private practice lawyers and corporate counsel to nominate a list of in-house peers for the 2015 First Chair Awards. The firm is pleased to announce that Akerman clients were selected as award recipients, a testament to their position among the nation's top in-house counsel.

First Chair is the first organization designed to bring together a community of accomplished outside counsel with their talented in-house peers in order to recognize innovation and achievement.

The following Akerman clients will be honored with the First Chair Award during an annual conference and gala on September 2, 2015.
