Akerman is proud to sponsor the Midwest Healthcare Innovation Summit, a premier event that brings together the region’s industry leaders for critical conversations — from workforce resilience and financial sustainability to AI, cybersecurity, and rural healthcare innovation.

Robert Slavkin, Chair of the firm’s Healthcare Practice Group, will moderate the closing roundtable, “Shared Accountability: Sustaining Midwest Healthcare for the Next Decade.” The session will discuss the collaborative approaches needed to support a sustainable and resilient healthcare ecosystem across the Midwest.

We look forward to connecting with healthcare leaders and innovators throughout the summit.
