Mishell Parreno Taylor Will Speak on Intentionally Building the Leadership Pipeline

September 23, 2026

1:00 PM – 2:00 PM ET

Virtual

Mishell Parreno Taylor will serve as a panelist on the National Conference of Women’s Bar Associations (NCWBA) program, “Intentionally Building the Leadership Pipeline.”

This program will examine strategies for intentionally cultivating the next generation of leaders within women’s bar organizations. Discussion topics will include identifying leadership potential, creating meaningful opportunities for professional development, and building a strong and sustainable leadership pipeline. Designed for both emerging and experienced leaders, the program will offer practical insights and tools to help participants lead with greater purpose, effectiveness, and long-term impact.
