Bert Greenwell to Discuss How AI is Transforming Real Estate M&A

October 21, 2026

Virtual CLE Webinar

Akerman Of Counsel Bert Greenwell will present the CLE webinar “Bricks, Bytes & Buyouts: Navigating Real Estate Issues in M&A When AI Is at the Table,” presented by Wickard. The program will examine how artificial intelligence is transforming merger and acquisition transactions involving significant real estate assets.

As AI-powered tools increasingly influence due diligence, lease review, title analysis, and environmental risk assessments, deal teams must adapt to evolving legal and business considerations. Bert will discuss how the use of AI is reshaping expectations surrounding real estate diligence, risk allocation, and transaction documentation, while highlighting key issues counsel should consider when technology supplements traditional review processes.

The program will provide practical guidance for real estate attorneys, M&A practitioners, and in-house counsel on addressing AI-related risks and opportunities, adapting transaction documents, managing client expectations, and navigating professional responsibilities in an increasingly technology-driven deal environment.
