Emerging Companies Practice Showcased in the Media

December 16, 2013

Akerman formed an Emerging Companies Practice, which was highlighted in Law360, the Miami Herald, and the South Florida Business Journal. The articles report that the new Practice is a continuation of Akerman's long-standing relationships with serial entrepreneurs and investors, and is an extension of the firm's work with business incubators and accelerators. The multidisciplinary team expands the firm's services for startup companies and venture capitalists through all stages of the corporate lifecycle.
