Erica Gomer assists, advises, and represents businesses ranging from closely held companies and family-owned operations, to large corporations and private equity firms, in a variety of complex commercial litigation matters, including business torts, contract disputes, corporate shareholder disputes, employee non-compete and non-solicitation agreements, and class actions. Additionally, Erica represents businesses in all types of real estate litigation matters, including commercial landlord-tenant disputes, commercial evictions, lease defaults, purchase and sale disputes, and a host of other real estate related damages claims.

Erica also represents companies in contract and collection litigation, and enforcement of warehouseman lien rights.

Notable Work

Commercial Eviction Trial: Represented a commercial property owner through a non-jury eviction trial in consolidated cases, stemming from a commercial tenant's failure to pay rent on various commercial units rented within the building. The tenant asserted a host of counterclaims. The trial presented pre-trial emergency evidentiary motions, which were heavily contested. The trial resulted in a successful eviction judgment and award of attorneys' fees.

Non-Compete Injunction: Represented a company against a former employee in a federal action for theft of trade secrets and breach of non-competition agreement.

Fraud and Breach of Contract: Successfully defended a company against allegations of fraud and breach of contract. Despite significant challenges, including lost business records and the absence of key personnel with knowledge of the dispute, the defense was able to secure a favorable judgment for the client on all claims.
