Brit Brown Quoted in Houston Chronicle on 2018 Energy Outlook

December 27, 2017

Energy Sector Chair and Houston Office Managing Partner Brit Brown was quoted in a Houston Chronicle article titled, “A More Restrained U.S. Oil Industry Among Energy Predictions for 2018,” discussing legal trends for the energy sector. Among other insights, Brown told the publication that as market conditions and corporate budgets stabilize, energy companies are reassessing their legal docket and dedicating greater resources toward litigation and other actions that assert their legal rights.
