

In The News

Tamara Savin Malvin Co-Author Law360 Article on Litigation Avoidance Tips for International Hotel Operators

April 30, 2018

Tamara Savin Malvin co-authored a Law360 article titled, “5 Facts Foreign Hotel Operators Should Know About U.S. Law,” outlining strategic legal factors for international hospitality operations that interface with U.S. guests. Malvin addressed U.S. litigation trends borne out of cross-border disputes, as well as other considerations that play into how those proceedings unfold and their putative effects on international hotels. She also offered several best practices for hotel owners and operators to avoid or mitigate the risk of full-scale litigation between their properties and American travelers.

Click here to view this news.

Related People

Tamara Savin Malvin

Related Work

Hospitality
Hospitality Dispute
Resolution
Hospitality Operational
Matters
International
Latin America and the Caribbean
Litigation

Related Offices

Fort Lauderdale
Miami