

Report

2018 Akerman U.S. Real Estate Sector Report

June 5, 2018

The Akerman U.S. Real Estate Sector Report provides insights on the economic conditions affecting the U.S. commercial real estate market.

The 2018 Akerman Real Estate Report finds that industry leaders possess unwavering optimism about America's economic strength. Nearly 70 percent of executives and investors surveyed in the ninth annual Akerman U.S. Real Estate Sector Report say they are even more optimistic for 2018 market activity than in the last two years — an overwhelming 25-plus percent jump, firm records show.

The 2018 report captures the perspectives from the C-suite and provides a comprehensive analysis of the sector, highlighting the complexity of key market conditions, including capital availability, investor trends, and drivers of growth.

Read the Report

---

Related People

Eric D. Rapkin

---

Related Work

Real Estate