

In The News

Akerman Among Top Businesses Helping Reunite Immigrant Families Separated at U.S. Border

June 25, 2018

Akerman joined more than 34 U.S. law firms spearheading a national coalition to advocate for the reunion of immigrant families separated at America's borders. Designed to provide pro bono legal services to ensure the rights and humane treatment of immigrants, the initiative supports those seeking protection in the United States from often civil and military unrest in their home countries. The initiative has garnered top recognition and support among national news organizations, leading corporations and prominent nonprofits.