

Practices

Akerman Data Solutions

Organizations today face an unrelenting proliferation of data across a wide array of sources: cloud platforms, collaboration tools, mobile devices, business systems, and emerging technologies. As data volumes grow, so do the legal, regulatory, privacy, and business challenges associated with managing it.

Akerman Data Solutions helps clients transform data from a source of risk into a strategic asset. Combining advanced technology, deep data expertise, and legal insights, our multidisciplinary team of attorneys, technologists, data specialists, and project managers delivers practical solutions across the information lifecycle—from proactive governance and compliance to litigation, investigations, and transactional diligence.

Leveraging cutting-edge analytics, artificial intelligence, and proven processes, Akerman Data Solutions helps organizations reduce risk, control costs, meet regulatory obligations, and make better-informed decisions based on their most valuable asset: their data.

Data Solutions Across the Information Lifecycle

Akerman Data Solutions operates at the intersection of law, technology, compliance, and information management. We help clients understand what data they have, where it resides, how it should be managed, and how it can be leveraged to achieve legal, operational, and strategic objectives.

Connect With Us

Elan Hersh

Chair, Akerman
Data Solutions
+1 954 759 8954

Our Team

Related Work

Class Action Defense
Consumer Financial Services, Data and Technology (CFS+)
Consumer Protection
Litigation
Data Privacy and
Security
Employment Litigation
Financial Institutions
Commercial Litigation
Government Agency
Litigation
Healthcare
Information
Governance
Insurance Litigation
Intellectual Property
Litigation
International Litigation and Arbitration
Litigation
Patent Litigation
Real Estate
Securities Litigation
White Collar Crime and Government
Investigations

Our team brings decades of experience supporting complex litigation, investigations, privacy initiatives, information governance programs, and high-stakes transactions. This unique combination of legal and technical expertise allows us to develop solutions that align business objectives with evolving legal and regulatory requirements.

Whether addressing litigation risk, responding to privacy obligations, modernizing records management practices, or conducting large-scale diligence projects, we help clients confidently navigate today's increasingly complex data landscape.

Guiding Clients Through Data Complexity

Data challenges rarely exist in isolation. Litigation, privacy, compliance, governance, and transactional matters are interconnected, requiring a holistic approach to information management.

Akerman Data Solutions helps organizations proactively manage data before issues arise and respond efficiently when legal, regulatory, or business obligations demand action. Our team combines strategic guidance, defensible processes, and advanced technology to create scalable, efficient solutions tailored to each client's needs.

From litigation readiness and defensible disposition to AI-powered document review and privacy compliance workflows, we help clients derive value from their data while minimizing risk.

What We Do

Information Governance Consulting

- Data mapping and information inventories
- Records retention and defensible disposition programs

- Legacy data remediation and system rationalization
- Litigation readiness assessments
- Information governance policy development
- Data risk reduction and compliance strategies

eDiscovery and Litigation Data Services

- End-to-end discovery strategy and consulting
- Early case assessment and data analysis
- Legal hold management and preservation
- Advanced analytics, email threading, and near-duplicate analysis
- Data collection, processing, hosting, review, and production
- AI-assisted and technology-assisted review (TAR)
- Discovery dispute support and ESI protocol negotiation
- Support for litigation, investigations, subpoenas, and regulatory matters

Privacy and Data Subject Request Fulfillment

- Data Subject Access Request (DSAR) response management
- Data identification, collection, and review workflows
- Redaction and production of personal information
- GDPR and U.S. state privacy law compliance support
- Consumer privacy request fulfillment
- Cross-functional privacy response programs

Transactional Data Diligence

- M&A due diligence document review and analysis

- Contract extraction and obligation identification
- Large-scale document and data assessments
- Integration and post-closing data reviews
- AI-enabled contract analytics
- Transaction support for corporate, private equity, and strategic transactions

Technology-Driven, Legally Grounded

Our approach combines sophisticated legal judgment with powerful data and analytics technologies. We leverage AI-enabled workflows, advanced review platforms, predictive analytics, machine learning, and defensible data management processes to accelerate insight, improve accuracy, and reduce costs.

Backed by the resources of an Am Law 100 firm, Akerman Data Solutions delivers solutions that are not only technologically advanced but also legally defensible and strategically aligned with our clients' objectives.

Delivering Service Excellence

Service excellence means more than successfully completing a project—it means becoming a trusted advisor in our clients' most complex data challenges. We combine deep legal knowledge, data expertise, innovative technology, and a commitment to responsiveness to deliver exceptional results across every engagement.

Whether helping clients govern information, respond to litigation, meet privacy obligations, or complete critical transactions, our focus remains the same: providing practical, defensible, and cost-effective solutions that empower organizations to make smarter decisions with their data.

“From data collection, processing of the data, utilizing search platforms and producing documents for individual adversary complaints and to government agencies, the people behind Akerman Data Solutions performed at the highest level of competency and professionalism.”

Nicholas R. Troszak

Development Specialists, Inc.

“From the largest and most complex multistate litigation to the simplest employment dispute, the people behind Akerman Data Solutions have consistently provided exemplary service from the initial identification and gathering of data through production. They provide excellent value by leveraging forward-thinking technology where appropriate, and have the personnel and know-how to scale up for larger, more traditional reviews. There is no data intelligence group in the country I would rather have in my corner in a tough case.”

Pierre A. Chabot

Devine Millimet

TOP TIER FIRM

Legal500

UNITED STATES

2026

Ranked among the top practices in the U.S., with The Legal 500 praising the team’s “excellent depth and breadth of knowledge” and “ability to find solutions to novel problems.”

The Legal 500

2026 U.S. Guide