James Burns Comments on Healthcare Case Headed to Pennsylvania Supreme Court in Pittsburgh Post-Gazette

May 13, 2019

James Burns spoke to the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette about the upcoming Pennsylvania Supreme Court hearing involving the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center (UPMC), which is being sued by State Attorney General Josh Shapiro, who claims that the hospital violated the public trust. The attorney general's accusations stem from UPMC's years-long contractual fight with Highmark health insurance over market share.
