Oil & Gas: Upstream

As continued market uncertainty drives energy companies to rethink their business strategies, obtaining the counsel of lawyers experienced in the energy sector is essential. And with business-altering consequences at stake, companies must assess ongoing risks and opportunities while carefully managing their legal budget.

Akerman's Energy Sector Team represents a broad array of clients in the upstream sector, ranging from independent exploration and production companies to multinational energy corporations to service contractors and marine companies. Our multidisciplinary team has extensive technical, business, and operational knowledge gained from prior career experience in the energy sector. We maintain long-standing and trusted relationships with key organizations and professionals throughout the industry.

With a lengthy track record of trying cases, our seasoned trial lawyers have a long history of protecting our clients' interests using innovative case strategy and cost-effective matter management. In addition, our corporate lawyers guide clients through energy-related transactions, including private equity deals, mergers and acquisitions, capital markets transactions, financings, and other transactional matters.
