

Speaking Engagements

John Linker to Speak on Employment Claims in the Wake of COVID-19

July 9, 2020

3:00 PM ET

Webinar

John Linker will speak on a webinar panel titled, “Preparing for the New Wave of Employment Claims and Enforcement Agency Focus in the Wake of COVID-19,” presented by the North American Meat Institute (NAMI). The webinar will discuss the business ramifications of COVID-19 for employers and the new wave of employment related claims and enforcement agency trends taking shape. The panelist will discuss a wide range of situations, including: employee leave issues under the FFCRA, ADA and traditional FMLA issues, discrimination claims, wage and hour claims, and providing a safe workplace. NAMI is a national trade association that represents companies that process 95 percent of red meat and 70 percent of turkey products in the US and their suppliers throughout America.

Register

Click here to register for this event.

Related People

John Linker

Related Work

Employment
Administrative Claims
Defense
Employment Litigation
Labor and Employment

Related Offices

Houston

Coronavirus Resource Center

Visit the Resource Center

