

People

Azfar Shamsi

Chief Information Officer

Winston-Salem
T: +1 312 870 8088

azfar.shamsi@akerman.com
vCard

Connect With Me

Azfar Shamsi serves as Akerman's Chief Information Officer, overseeing all aspects of the firm's information technology strategy, architecture, and management. Azfar works closely with firm leadership to ensure technology initiatives and capabilities align with our clients' objectives and security requirements. He has over 20 years of experience working across various industries, and has held technology leadership positions in several AmLaw 100 firms.

A registered patent lawyer with a background in computer science, Azfar has an established record of creating and leveraging innovative solutions to transform and simplify business processes to deliver measurable benefits to both end users and clients.

Education

J.D., University of Akron, School of Law, 2003
B.S., Wright State University, 1990

Admissions

Bars

U.S. Patent and Trademark Office

Courts

Supreme Court of Ohio