What Our Colleagues Say About Akerman

"I joined Akerman based on its culture and reputation as a sophisticated and forward-thinking firm that embraces a diversity of ideas and takes a collaborative approach in providing strategic guidance to our clients."

– Lateral Partner; Chair, Trusts & Estate Practice

"After more than five years with the firm, everything that was represented to me has been true – the firm works together as 'one' firm; lawyers and staff get along with one another; people with difficult personalities are not tolerated; and lawyers share credit and work together as a team for the greater good of the client and the firm." – Lateral Corporate Partner

"Akerman's extensive range of specialty practice groups allows me to offer clients legal services above and beyond my core practice area, and that also improves clients' businesses. This provides an overall better legal representation, increases existing client satisfaction, and attracts new clients." – Lateral Associate; Recently Promoted to Partner

"There was never a question as to whether I should join Akerman. Akerman is different: it's simply a standout firm – its commitment to pro bono, diversity, and professional development is unparalleled. And from the outset, the most brilliant attorneys made it clear that they would guide, support, and invest in me and have kept their promise."

– First Year Litigation Associate
